

Gender Equality

AND WHY IT MATTERS

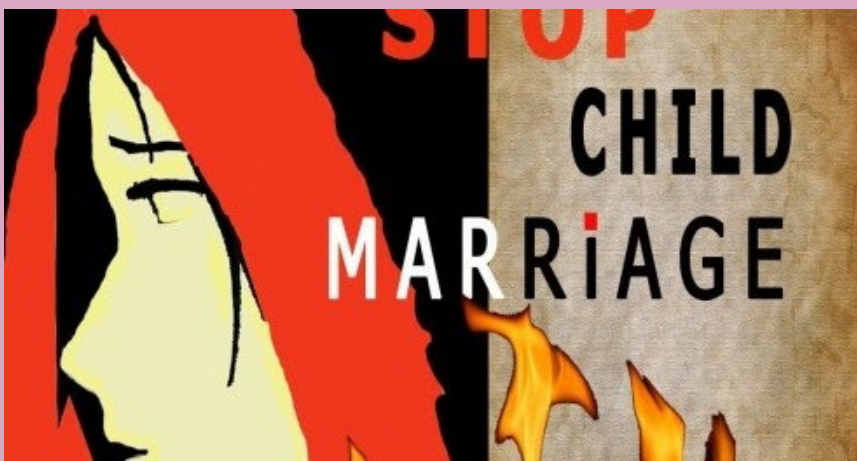

-24%

On Average
Women in the labour market
still earn 24% less than Men
globally

Mostly Gender discrimination starts by birth of a girl and follows them all their lives

Marrying
young also affects girls'
education.

In some countries,
girls are deprived
of access to health care or proper nutrition

35% of the women worldwide are abused by their intimate partners

Advancing gender equality
is critical to all areas of a healthy society, from reducing poverty to promoting the health,
education,
protection
and the well-being of girls and boys.
